Thousands Enjoy Armistice Celebration In Cameron

EDISON TONE TEST ARTISTS ANNOUNCED

NEW CAMERON DRUG COMPANY TO PRESENT PROGRAM HERE NOVEMBER 27

Music lovers will rejoice in the announcement that Helen Davis, the eminent mezzo soprano and Victor Young, the popular composer Pianist will appear in a joint recital at Yoe Hi auditorium on Friday November 27. Admission to the concert will be by a card of introduction only and the New Cameron Drug Company who is bringing these celebrated artists to Cameron has a few tickets left which will be issued in order of application.

The appearance of Miss Davis and Mr. Young of course, would be sufficent to arrouse the interest of music lovers here, but the fact that they will lend their superb art to the laudable work of revealing conclusively that the marvelous achievement of the recreation of musical sound has been attained, adds immeasurable interest to the occasion.

In the coming recital Miss Davis will sing in comparison with her voice as recreated by the New Edison, to enable those in the audience to judge whether or not the living voice can be made to live forever. Superb program has been arranged, a program that will reveal all the fascinating qualities of the glorious voice of the young mezzo-soprano. At times her living voice will be heard alone, at times she will sing in unision with her recreated voice, and at other times she will sing duets with herself. Similar tests will be made by Victor Young with his piano recreations. The audience will try to pick the two golden threads of tone apart, to say which one lives for the moment and which one has been made immortal.

CLUB COMPLAINS OF CONDITION OF ROADS

ROADS IMPAIRED AND TRAVEL DIFFICULT POINTED OUT AT MEETING

Continued heavy rainfall in the Cameron trade territory where new roads are under construction and where maintenance jobs are in progress has made difficult of travel a number of leading highways leading in and out the county capital.

The condition of the roads was the subject of prolonged discussion before the Commercial Club on Monday night. Some criticism was heard of the administration for the manner in which the road contracts have been handled.

Others felt that roads to be maintained in the condition in which they receive them should have more local attention.

Since the overflow across the bottom considerable damage will have to be repaired.

Mr. Dennison, the maintenance contractor at Temple, has these and other roads under his supervision and E. A. Smith as his local representative plan an extensive working program as soon as the weather will permit.

Club Decrees No Money Be Spent With Newspapers.

That no money raised to defray the expenses of the poultry show shall be spent with Cameron newspapers for advertising was the instructions made by the club Monday night.

W. M. Cobb, chairman of the committee, reported to the club giving assurance that the newspapers would receive none of the money.

The newspapers have been very liberal in furnishing free publicity for the poultry show and other like public affairs in Cameron and in view of this fact no good reason has been cited for this action.

AMERICA'S PART IN WORLD WAR VINDICATION OF TIME HONORED STAND ON QUESTION OF LIBERTY.

America's part in the world war was a vindication of her history and conceptions of liberty said Judge W. G. Gillis in his address before the ex-service men held in the district court room Wednesday in the annual celebration of Armistice day.

In his address Judge Gillis recited American history showing the wars in which she had engaged involving principles of liberty for which she hea ever drawn the sword.

The world war was a war of greater significance than any struggle in which America had engaged, he said, because under the fine idealism cherished by America for the institution of liberty the peoples of the earth were given the right of self determination and came to realize for the first time in all the history of the world the freedom known to every American.

He predicted that in time some association of Nations, whether the League, International Court, Lacarno Treaty or any other organized effort, will function to prevent wars and that never again with the scourge of such a conflict come to destroy the sons of men.

Associations of nations such as concerts outlined by President Wilson and other allied statesmen are preventative measures but real peace will come to man kind only when all men have accepted the code of Christ.

The Judge paid a striking tribute to the ceremony inaugurated by President Harding at the grave of the unknown soldier.

The roll call of Milam County dead read as an annual feature of the Armistice program brought home the realization that this country had contributed well of her sons who made the supreme sacrifice for the achievement of universal peace.

Cameron Loses To Baylor 19 to 0 In Armistice Game.

Cameron lost a one sided battle Wednesday afternoon to the Baylor University by the score of 19 to 0 on Lawless Green field as a special attraction on Armistice day. The Baylor men proved too strong for the Yoemen playing better football by reason of this fact, scoring three touchdowns, one each in the last three quarters.

In the first quarter after Baylor had brought the ball by first downs within striking distance of the Cameron goal, the ball went over when Cameron's line held against the yellow backs. The brilliant Fred Childress punted out of danger and thus a touchdown was prevented the first quarter.

The Baylor toe missed several field goals and on the touchdowns only kicked one goal.

Mr. Isaac W. CITY MANAGER PLAN OF GOVERNMENT BEST

FORT WORTH SAVES MONEY AND HAS MORE EFFICENT ADMINISTRATION

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 7.—Citizens of Texas have watched the change in city government in Fort Worth with considerable interest and according to city officials, have now become fully convinced concerning the greater efficiency of the city manager form of government, when properly operated, but seem to labor under the impression that the new form of administrations more expensive to the tax payers than the old commission form.

City manager, O. E. Carr, of Fort Worth, one of the oldest professional city managers in the country, has prepared a statement of expenditures of the city during the month of August, 1923, and August, 1925; the former under the commission form of government and the latter under the city manager form.

The city council of Fort Worth is composed of nine of the leading business men of Fort Worth, who form a board of directors and who function through a highly paid expert municipal executive.

The population of Fort Worth during August, 1923, was 143,821. The population here during 1925 is 154,847 according to the city auditor. The Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce states, however, that the present population is in the neighborhood of 183,000.

General administration expenses including those for the chief executive's office, City Secretary-Treasurer, Auditors office, department of law, purchasing department, Tax Assessor and Collector, City hall and janitors, engineers office, and Corporation Court, cost the tax payers in August, 1923, $49,652 and in August, 1925, $12,676.

Protection of life and property including the police and detective departments, fire department, fire and police signals, building inspector, cost in August, 1923, $49,652 and in August, 1925, $53,267.

Health and sanitation, including the department of health and welfare and garbage collection and disposal, cost in August, 1923, $15,857 and in August, 1925, $14,391.

Highways, including street cleaning street repairs, garage and shop, street lighting, cost in August, 1923, $39,343, and in August, 1925, $27,262.

This shows, Mr. Carr contends, notwithstanding a growth in population, a saving to the tax payers of $9,526, under the city manager form of government during one month: totals for the expenditures in August, 1923, being $117,124. and for the same month in 1925 $107,598.

BEN HARRELL

Many friends and relatives were made sad by the death of Ben Harrell, aged 66 years, at his home in Cameron on Wednesday, November 4, 1925. Mr. Harrell had been sick for some months and his sufferings borne with patience and fortitude. He had been a resident of Cameron for a few months having moved to Cameron from Rosebud where he had lived for fourteen years and had been employed at the compress for a long time.

Mr. Harrell had been for forty-five years a member of the Baptist Church and his funeral was conducted by Bro. E. S. Hutcherson of Cameron and the Baptist pastor of Rosebud. Mr. Harrell was a member of the Rosebud Woodman of the World Lodge and many members of the order attended the funeral at the Little River Cemetery. Mr. Harrell is survived by his wife, who was before her marriage Miss Mary Louise Barron of Jones Prarie, Hubert Harrell, Rosebud, Walter Harrell, St Louis, Mo., Miss Louise Harrell, Cameron; six sisters and one brother: Mrs. Bob Vaughn, Cameron, Mrs. Ben Stidham, Jones Prarie, Mrs. Ben Roberts, Detroit, Michigan, Mrs. Armstead Rice, Brownwood, Mrs. Jess Middleton, Waco, and Sam Harrell, Jones Prarie.

Mr. Harrell came to Texas, when a boy, with his parents and lived near Maysfield. Later he farmed near Jones Prarie and was very successful. He had many friends in Milam County, who will hear with regret of his passing.

THE PENCIL MAKES A FARM PAY BETTER

Farm Accounting Reveals Losing Methods and Points Way to Bigger Profits.

(From Banker-Farmer)

A farm cannot properly be called successful unless it pays a fair rate of interest on the investment and returns fair wages for the farmer's labor. Agriculture is considered by all odds the most important industry in the world, and yet in no other industry is the business end so neglected.

It is common to find a farmer with an investment of fifteen to twenty thousand dollars, yet does he keep books? Perhaps he may jot down a note now and then of an important deal, but this is of no value in an analysis of his business as a whole. No other industry, however small, is carried on without books of some sort.

Farming is a business and to be successful must be conducted in a businesslike way. The business man's mind should have indelibly printed upon it two questions: What profit is my business making? How can that profit be increased? To know the latter, one must find out the former; and to find out about profits requires the keeping of books.

It is not necessary for a farmer to have a course in bookkeeping. Almost every agricultural college in the country has issued a simplified farm accounting book which it sells at cost, and only a few minutes are required each day to jot down the day's happenings.

Accounts Increase Profits

Instances number a thousandfold where farmers have profited by knowing their business. Accounts kept by nineteen farmers in Illinois led them to improve the organization and operation of their farms in ways that added approximately $650 to their average net income in 1922, the seventh year they had kept accounts.

An Iowa farmer found at the end of the first year he kept books that crops fed to livestock brought more money than when sold outright. His figures showed that his cows were poor; compared with other farms in the state, he found the number of acres cultivated per man on his farm, as well as the number of acres per horse, were below average. He rented more land and replanned his fields, so that the crop areas per man and horse were increased. He sold some of his scrubs and bought good cows. The second year his income from the farm, after paying all expenses and interest on the money invested, had been increased over $350.

Costs Can Be Regulated

"I have discovered," says one farm bookkeeper, "that the kind of man you have on a job, as well as the particular team, often makes quite a variation in the cost of performing certain tasks. I have learned from the pages of my book that if I could have increased the yield of my wheat field by two bushels and my corn by five bushels I would have realized a substantial profit from them."

While the farmers may not be able to fix prices on their products, they do have a voice in determining the costs of production. To reduce this cost they must first know what the costs are.

The number of farmers who are keeping books on their business has increased remarkably in recent years, but the number of businesslike farmers is woefully small when listed alongside the sum total of the farmers in the country.

Inventory Is Indispensable

The basis of any system of farm accounting is the annual property list or inventory. It is the starting point of the farm records. One must take into consideration decreases or increases in the value of all property owned to gauge the progress of the business. Lacking facts as to the value of his property, no business man can form an accurate estimate of how he stands financially. Increased cash may be due to property which was sold, or increased debts may be due to improvements made. If a farmer is falling behind, the inventory will emphasize this fact. Often when a man is discouraged and thinks he is making no progress, his inventories will tell him that he is better off than he thought.

At the end of each year a financial statement is drawn off. This is the farmer's rating and no farmer with a good financial statement need fear walking into a bank and asking for a loan.

42 PARTY

A wreath of roses gracefully arranged lent floral charm to the living room of Mrs. Oxsheer Smith's new home on Wednesday afternoon when she enfertained a group of friends with 42. Five tables were outfitted for the games. Individual scores were kept on tiny hankerchief parasols. In the cut these favors fell to Mesdames: R. J. Long, Rush Thomas, Charles McDermott, Wiley Mangum and Giles McDermott. Mrs. J. C. Tucker received a colonial lady for high score. Mesdames H. F. Smith and Rush Thomas assisted the hostess in serving an attractive salad plate.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

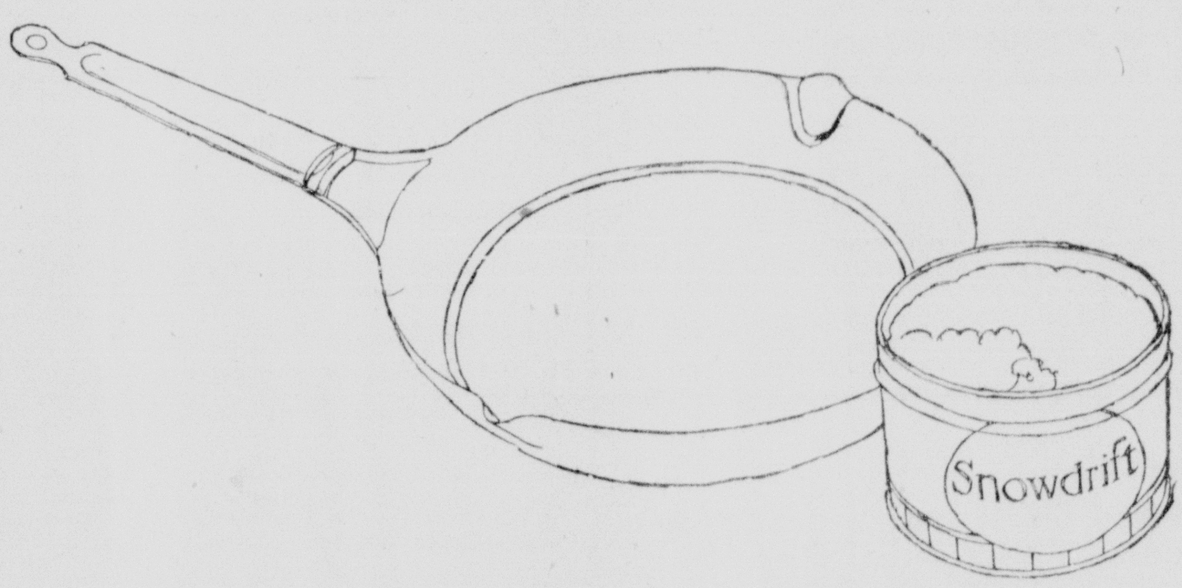
The goodness of fried food depends upon the frying fat you use.



Snowdrift is made by the Wesson Oil people out of oil as good as a fine salad oil. That's why food fried in it tastes so good and is so wholesome.

Snowdrift does not burn when heated hot enough to fry anything, and it has no taste of its own.

Food fried in Snowdrift is crisp, brown and tasty. Lots of folks who ordinarily don't eat fried food pass their plates for more when Snowdrift is the fat the food is fried in.

COTTON BUYERS REFUSE TO RECEIVE "PULLED" COTTON—NO GOOD

Mr.Frank Peters, manager of the Red Gin and the Peoples Gin received a telegram on Monday morning of this week stating that large cotton buyers and exporters would no longer buy cotton that was "pulled". The lint of "pulled" cotton is not matured, and in many cases rotten, and for this reason was a direct loss to the cotton buyer who buys this grade of cotton. Mr. Peters said the market on pulled cotton closed a week ago in West Texas for this reason he expected the same condition to follow soon.

It is thought by some who have recently returned from points in West Texas that this action of the cotton factors in refusing to buy the cotton ginned from pulled cotton will be a severe blow to West Texas, for the reason that ginning in that portion of the state had just begun to be active before the recent freeze, and as a result of the freeze many green bolls will not open. It has been the practice hitherto to pull the bolls and the hullers of the improved modern gins would clean it and make it saleable. If the market remaines closed on this grade of cotton it will probably cut the production over a million bales of the Texas crop, according to estimate heard in the street. It will not effect the local farmers very greatly since no freeze has so far visited this section. Some have begun to pull their cotton here but with good weather the majority of green bolls are expected to open in this section. —Thorndale Champion.

READ TAX COLLECTOR'S AD ON REGISTERING CARS

Roy Law, tax collector for Milam County was here last Friday and Saturday to fill engagements he had previously announced through cards which he sent out to tax payers over the county. The weather conditions were not favorable while Mr. Law was here but he reports collections very good, especially considering the early date of his visit and the condition prevailing in this section. Joe Marek accompanied Mr. Law in assisting him in waiting on tax payers and they were quite busy most of the time. In this connection the Champion calls attention to the double column ad in this isue in which Mr. Law explains the necessity of car owners to present cirtificates showing that their headlights have been tested when they apply for registrations of their automobiles. The collector desires to give prompt and complete service at all times and in order to inform the people of the requirements of the law governing the restriction of cars he is running this ad to explain the matter thoroughly. He is paying for the ad out of his own pocket and no cost of this service comes out of the county funds. —Thorndale Champion.

MRS. A. H. HUDMAN BURRIED AT LAWRENCE CHAPEL SUN.

Mrs H. A. Hudman, a native of Texas, and a resident of this section all of her life, died Saturday at her home near Lawrence Chapel, and was burried in the Lawrence Chapel cemetery Sunday. Rev. T. C. Jester, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Taylor, conducted the funeral service, many friends from adjacent communities attended the service.

The deceased was an aunt of Mrs. E. L. Lawrence of Thorndale and made her home in Thorndale for about three years—from 1908 to about 1910. She was left a widow by the death of her husband in 1910, and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. C. W. Abbot of Austin and one brother and sister. The immediate cause of her death was pelegra, and was a very patient sufferer. She leaves many relatives and friends to mourn her loss, to whom the Champion extends sincere sympathy. —Thorndale Champion.

Chevrolet Increase Production; Build 55,000 In October.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 10—Exceeding its production schedule by more than 1,000, the Chevrolet Motor Company built 55,504 motor cars and trucks during October, the third highest production month in the history of the company.

This achievement followed a similar preformance in September when the company built 55,365 units exceeding its production schedule by highest month in Chevrolet production, being only 378 under the high mark established two years ago.

The production maintained during the last sixty days aided the company in its efforts to meet the heavy demand which has continued consistently throughout the entire year.

During the last seven months the Chevrolet average production has been 52,457 per month. During only one of these months did production fall below the 50,000 mark, that being July when 45,670 cars and trucks were manufactured. The slight July decrease was due to changes being made at the factories in preparation for the improvements which followed of Aug. 1.

A further stabilazation of Chevrolet year-round production is expected to follow the recent development of inexpensive pasenger bus bodies which three body manufactures now are making for the one-ton Utility Express chassis.

A TALK WITH A CAMERON MAN

MR. REED TELLS SOMETHING OF INTEREST TO CAMERON FOLKS

There's nothing of more convincing than the statement of someone you know and have confidence in. That's why this talk with Mr. Reed of Nolan Ave. and W. 8th street, should be mighty helpful here in Cameron.

J. J. Reed, grocer, says, "My kidneys were in a disordered condition and acted more freely than they should have. It was necessary for me to get up several times in the night to pass the secretions. This sort of thing prevented me from resting properly and when morning came, I was tired and all out of sorts. A friend told me of Doan's pills and I started using them. One box put my kidneys in normal condition and made me feel one hundred per cent better".

S. S. WORKERS CONFERENCE

The officers and teachers of the Baptist Sunday School met in their regular monthly conference Thursday evening at seven o'clock. Although it was a very rainy night there were about forty present. A good lunch was served by the ladies of the church, during which period we were favored with a violin solo by Miss Olive Henderson, and two humorous readings by Mrs. A. B. Guinn. Reports were had from the different departments and classess which were interesting to us all. Plans for the future were discussed, among which is our enlargement campaign that is to be conducted in December, when Mr. Harrell of the state Sunday School Department is to be with us. These monthly conferences are proving a success, and are adding new life and pep to all our Sunday School work. As Mr. Burns said Thursday night, "Lets make the best better".

INDIVIDUAL EFFORT.

The community has seen so much accomplished when people band themselves together, that it has come to have an almost superstitious faith in the power of organizations. A group of people can hardly get together to discuss existing conditions, without creating a set of officers and a constitution and by-laws. After the enthusiasm fades out, this machinery is often forgotten and ceases to exist.

This power of organization gets many things done. If some mere individual solicits the help of politicians, they are very apt to disregard such suggestions as lacking weight. But when they hear that an organization is working for some end, they think it is a powerful movement that can not be ignored.

In forming all our splendid machinery for civic service, we often forget the need of individual effort. The old timers, if they saw their home towns needed trees, would get out with spades and pails of water, and set the same out themselves. Today citizens call up some improvement society or city department for such a purpose, and expect that some organization is going to do for them what they are too indolent to do for themselves.

If we want to accomplish social and civic results, the individual must be alert to see chances for help. In his church, instead of looking to the officers to do all the work, he should feel the responsibility to welcome strangers, to perform kindly deeds, and to say cheering words.

In his civic relations, he should be willing to give some of his own time to improving his own home place and neighborhood. Instead of looking to the public officers to do everything, he should give some of his own effort to promoting better government, improved schools, etc. Only as the individual citizen is alert and working, shall we have a good city here in Cameron or anywhere else.

RELIGION AND LAWLESSNESS.

In an address delivered to the national council of Congregational churches some days ago, President Coolidge deplored the prevailing lawlessness and asserted that political methods can not control these developments. He felt that the inspirations and restraining power of religious faith constitute the only remedy that goes to the root of these conditions.

It may be objected that even if this great majority of the people are willing to co-operate with religious influences, the lawless elements would not be affected thereby. The crooks and bandits do not go to church and Sunday School and most of them probably never did so. How can they be influenced by forces that do not touch them?

Nevertheless, if the great majority of people could co-operate with the religious and moral forces, the effect would be to create a more intense abhorance for wrongs. This destination would extend to classes of society not directly touched by any religious or moral agency.

Better religious and moral training is called for. If the great majority of children can be convinced that fraud or theft is not merely wrong in theory, but that it is contemptable and disgraceful, an intense feeling against such ways of getting money will spread through society.

The young man of crooked tendency who is tempted to commit some theft, would be apt to feel that money obtained that way would not do him any good after he had got it. It is high time for a drive for more regular church attendance, for sending all children to Sunday School, and for more attention to moral teaching in public schools. The people of Cameron will co-operate heartily with such a movement.

THE CHANCE FOR DISARMAMENT.

Great efforts ought to follow from the recent peace agreement, entered into by Germany, France, England and Italy. Representatives of these nations have agreed to settle all their differences by peaceful arbitration. Having made that agreement, the question must arise among them, why do they need the very large armaments they now have? They are the strongest nations of the world outside the United States. No power can challenge them.

And if they act on this line of thought and are willing to reduce their armaments, then the question will arise whether the United States needs as much armament as it now has. If there is a general disposition to reduce war preparation, the United States ought to take advantage of it and reduce its own heavy burden.

Our people have always been believers in peace, and have been foremost in advocating peace measures. We shall of course want to join in any move for disarmament which may be initiated by the rest of the world.

The feeling will be expressed by some that treaties have been made before and broken. Yet it does not seem true that the people of these countries are thoroughly sick and disgusted with war. They want no more of it. They are willing to go to great lengths to get peace. If that is the case, any big war for the next generation is very unlikely.

The more the nations reduce their armament provided the stronger powers consent to do it proportionately and at the same time, the more they will get in the habit of looking at things in a peaceful way. If they have great armies and navies, the temptation becomes strong to think they can settle disputes better by force of arms. But with reduced fighting power, they think more of settling quarrels by peaceful means. It is out of that spirit that permanent peace is likely to grow.

POORLY KEPT HOMES.

Most towns have some neighborhoods where houses are kept in a disorderly way, and are a discredit to the community. Some owners of rented houses claim their tenants would not keep these places in good shape if they were improved, so that they would spend money for nothing if they made such betterments.

Some people will complain of the bad condition of the house they occupy, but if it happens to be near the place where they work, they will put up with it rather than consent to walk a longer distance.

People would do well to insist on well kept homes. They would better walk a considerable distance, rather than dwell in disorderly quarters, which must affect the morale of a family and bring the children up with imperfect ideas of neatness. As a general rule, if tenants would keep a house in good order, landlords would improve such property. It does not pay to let a house acquire a shabby appearance.

BACK YARDS.

There are some folks who have enough energy to keep their front yards fairly well cleaned up, but they have the feeling that anything will go in their back yards. Consequently these rear places become a receptable for every kind of disorder. Heaps of ashes, decayed weeds and vegetables stalks, grass that was never cut, litter from the house, tumble down sheds and chicken coops, these are common sights in many cities, and some such places can be found in Cameron.

These back yards are much more visible than the people who occupy them think. They have the same effect on the appearance of the family as is given to a man when he goes out without Shaving and with soiled and ragged clothes.

INTENSE PAIN

Lady, Also Nervous and Weak, Relieved by Cardui.

"I was ill and had to stay in bed under treatment for about two weeks without any improvement in my condition, which was serious," says Mrs. J. T. Abercrombie, R. F. D. 7, Brookville, Ind.

"I had intense pain in my side. I was so nervous and weak and just out of heart. . . .

"After taking one bottle of Cardui, I felt like getting up. My nerves seemed steadier and I didn't feel so weak. I kept up taking Cardui and was soon feeling like my old self. . .

"I am such a believer in Cardui until when I get nervous and weak I take it. I took it before my children were born. It strengthened me and helped my nerves.

"I took a cold and . . . my back felt so weak and I had such pulling pains. I took Cardui and didn't have any more trouble.

"I fell and broke my arm. The fall shook me up and made me very nervous. I told them Cardui would help that, and it did."

SELF IMPROVEMENT AND SERVICE AIMS OF BUSINESS WOMEN HERE SAYS CLUB HEAD BEFORE LIONS.

Miss Annie Stalworth, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, in an address before the Lions Club and before the organization meeting of the women made the following address:

"When served with notice by our worthy chairman, that I would be given an opportunity at this meeting to express my views on permanent organization of the B. and P. Women of Cameron. I flattered myself in thinking I could air the best ones ever conceived, and readily accepted the in vitation. I was so thrilled with the honor conferred on me that I immediatly disclosed this fact to a friend of mine, a very clever woman, who fully realized that the privilage had been delegated to the wrong person.

"Her first comment was: 'Why Ann what do you know about organizations? You don't even belong to the church?" I promptly informed her that she was wrong about that, but out of respect of my church, I didn't tell her which one I belonged to.

"Continuing my discourse, my friend asked: "What good will it do to organize anyway?' I readily gave her all the treasured ideas that I had intended unloading on this assembly, dwelling at length on The Things We Can Do As An Organization. Her final comment was: "Yes, We can kill a bear.'

I fear some, if not all, of you will quite agree with her, when I have finished my blundering efforts to present to you a few logical reasons why the B. and P. Women of Cameron should go into permanent organization.

Our Social Welfare

"Our meetings up to this time have been exclusively social, and I hardly think I could offer a more popular reason for permanent organization, than 'Our Social Welfare.'

"It is universally conceded that the success of all organizations, particularly clubs, depends largely on their social features. A lively programme, with eats, especially if the latter is prepared and served by the good Methodist ladies, and the Yoe-High D. E. class, is the best known magnet for attendance, and attendance is certainly essential to club success.

"Knowing my weakness for good eats, some of my friends will be inclined to consider my references, I may make to them, as mere efforts in my own defense. But it is a well known fact in commercial circles, that most magnificant deals have been put over at the luncheon table.

"It is well known to those of you who go to the Eastern Markets as purchasing agents for your firms, that the luncheons, and other social courtesies are extended you by the Monarchs of Commerce as important means of attracting you to the merchandise they hope to sell you.

"Aside from our respective churches and Sunday schools, the B. and P. Women are practically eliminated from the social activities of the community. Our vocations require from 8 to 14 hours of daily attendance, to keep the wheels of commerce revolving. In fact some of us feel that we are mere pieces of machinery, little cogs that fit in the wheels and make them go round, and that the social activity is not essential to our welfare.

"But B. and P. Women are just as human as other citizens of our community; nature demands social re-recreation, and we owe it to ourselves, as well as to our community, to pay some attention to the social side of our lives.

For Self-Improvement

"Another important reason for our organization is 'Our Self-Improvement'. Club room associations brings us in closer touch with each other; acquaints us with the best in each of us, and enables us to form friendships that we would never prehaps have an opportunity to enjoy elsewhere. In our daily business contact with each other, we perhaps overlook a great many admirable traits that would be brought to our notice in social contact. We frequently misjudge and denounce each other as some thing wholly foreign to our better selves because of some business clash which could possibly be corrected and forgotton through club room association.

To further emphasize this point; First apologizing; I will relate a little personal experience of mine. On one of my "off days" as one of my girls at the office choose to call them, I called one of our most prominent business women over the phone and asked her for certain information. It must have been one of her off days too, judging from some of the dialogue we used for quite a while. I won't repeat it here, but it was real jail bait. After my receiver was safely on the hook again I called her a cat. I hope I never know what she called me. A few nights later I went to one of our club meetings, and this woman I had denounced as a cat was one of the first to greet me with the most amiable smile and friendliest spirit I ever hope to meet again.

Fewer Off-Days

"She introduced me to her guest, and we engaged in friendly chat for a while, jazzed around the club room floor and had refreshments together. Through that one little social hour, I learned that she wasn't a cat at all but a most lovely amiable woman, and that as a business woman it behoves me to guard my temper, and put forth every effort to keep off days out of my place of business.

"We need to forget grievancs that besiege the path of our respective vocations, and club room associations, would make it easier to forget them, and cause us to always look for the best in people we meet in our business dealing and ignore the faults we find. It would broaden our view, strengthen our caracter and create for us the essential personality that makes better business women, and qualifies us for better service to a better business world.

"B. and P. Women owe the community which they live the same obligations that other citizens owe it, and they really desire to render the same service that it is expected of other citizens, but because of our limitations and handicaps, due to our respective vocations, we, as individuals, are unable to meet the situation. Hence we should be glad of an opportunity to discharge our obligations and render what service we can, through combined or organized efforts.

"There are many things of vital interest to our community, that seem to have been overlooked by other clubs and organizations, that we could foster, but for fear my friend, the bear killer is here tonight. I will not consume any other time to mention them, until we have definitely decided that we want to foster something for the good of the community.

Systematic Functioning

"The best and last reason that I suggest for our going into permanent organization, is the same reason that applies to all other organizations, social and commercial, and that is systematic functioning.

"We, as business women, know that all business organizations function under a supervision of a manager, a board of directors, or a boss of some kind,and that the success of a business organization depends on the efficent management and systematic rules applied in conducting its affairs.

"Our success as a club depends on the same basic principles governing the management of a successful business. We should elect an efficient executive force to lead us. We should adopt rules and regulations usually applied in conducting club affairs. We should seek opportunities for service, and pledge ourselves to hearty co-operation in fostering any worthy cause stranded in our community.

"We have been coming together for the past eight or ten months, unorganized, unofficered, and fostering nothing aside of our own social enjoyment. We are like the man without a country. We haven't even a home. We masquerade in borrowed plumes, using as a meeting place, the homes of other organizations that see fit to lend them, or rent them.

"Our meetings have been under the supervision of Miss Pope as chairman. Words are inadequate to express the credit she deserves for her leadership. We have enjoyed heartily the eats and the programmes arranged for our entertainment, and fully appreciate the benefit derived from them. But unfortunate to us, and very much to our regret, Miss Pope has removed herself from our midst and can no longer assume the burden of leadership for us.

The Opportune Time

"It seems to me that if we ever expect to organize, or expect to hope to foster anything, aside from meeting, eating and jazzing around, the time is opportuned for us to go into permanent organization, function as such and thereby put the public on notice that we are here and stand for the worthwhile things of our community, and desire to assume our share of the obligations to the community as a club".

Drink Water to Help Wash Out Kidney Poison

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

MEAT CANNING SEASON

Now is the time to can that calf you have been feeding so long. Do you realized that a fair sized yearling is worth from about $35 to $40 canned. You know what you get for it when you sell to the butcher. The weather is cold enough now and the roads will soon dry up, so lets put up our beef for winter use. Besides it will keep in the cans during the summer.

Call and see the Home Demonstration agent at once and be the first in your community to have a demonstration and see how good it is.

A dollar saved is a dollar earned, lets save the dollars by living at home, raise what we eat and can the surplus for the future, then we will not worry about hard times or dry years.

CALLS FOR CHARITY

Rockdale people are going to be faced with many calls for charity this winter. The fact seems inevitable, and already the calls are coming in. Already several families have been located by charitably inclined citizens who are actually in need, and who must be helped through the winter in humanity's name.

"The poor ye have always with ye", is as true today as in Bibical days. Here in the heart of Matchless Milam cases of charity occur every year, even in "good times". And now, following sixteen months of drouth and six weeks of almost constant rainfall, it is but natural that the calls for help should be more numerous and the cases more insistent.

The good women of the city have already started a movement to get together quantities of suitable clothing, shoes, etc., for certain cases that have been reported, and it has been suggested to the Reporter (and the editor deems the suggestion good) that a community chest be started, and that our charity expenditures this winter be systematized. To that end it is altogether possible that a soliciting committee will be appointed by Mayor H. C. Meyer, and that that committee will get to work the coming week soliciting donations of cash and merchandise, same to be placed in a charity fund and dispensed as the needs arise in each individual case reported.

The Reporter commends the warm hearted christian women of the city who have already started their errands of mercy, and we trust the business men and others approached later will see the necessity of concerted action and will contribute as liberally as possible to the community chest

In this connection the editor is reminded of the days of a decade ago when Rockdale numbered among her citizens a man who was always in touch with the poor and needy, and who was ever ready to lend of his time and assistance in relieving distress We refer to Lee Clark—peace to his ashes! If there was a case of charity in town, Lee Clark always knew about it and was ready to do something about it Rockdale is going to need another Lee Clark this winter it seems Whether this mantle is to fall on your shoulders or not, dear reader, be ready to do your bit when the call of sweet charity is sounded in your ears. —Rockdale Reporter.

SEVENTEEN INCHES RAIN DURING PAST SIX MONTHS

Records of rainfall kept by W. C. Marrs, Assistant cashier of the First National Bank, show that approximately seventeen inches of rain have fallen in Rockdale since the early part of September, and that approximately fourteen inches have fallen since the breaking of the 16-month-old drouth on October 9.

The first really general, seasoning rain fell on October 9, but during the thirty days preceeding about three inches fell in scattering showers of varying amounts.

Wet weather, ranging from a damp mist to hard showers, has prevailed the past week, with a total precipitation of approximately two and one-half inches. Wednesday, Wednesday night, and up to noon Thursday the rainfall measured a little more than one inch. Most people would have guesed far more for this period, but the rain guage showed only a little more than one inch.

The situation is beginning to look serious for the farmers. There is a big top crop of cotton in all of Rockdale's sandy land territory. In fact, the top crop is bigger this year than the bottom crop. This cotton cannot be gathered in this kind of weather, and unles bright, sunny days come soon, much of this top staple will be lost.

There is also a world of fall feed stuff growing luxuriantly and ready for the harvest if the wather would only clear off. Without clear weather the farmers stand to lose all this feed.

Road conditions are getting worse every day. The Rockdale-Thorndale road is now impassable, and second-class roads all over the county are all rapidly getting in the same condition. I.-G. N. trains are running late todty, due to soft track to the East. No. 5, the morning mail train, was ten hours late. —Rockdale Reporter.

"Bryan Drowns the Yoemen On a Sea of Mud"

Last Friday the Yoemen oared to Bryan in automobiles and lizzies. The creeks were swollen and were over. The roads were boggy, muddy and slippery but the Yoemen were undaunted because they were to play Bryan for the district title. This was why they got to Bryan., they wanted the championship.

The Bryan team scored in the first quarter by raw decisions from the referee. Bryan had the ball on the Yoemen's 2 yard line and it was the fourth down. The man carrying the ball dived into the line and did not fall. He was tackeled standing up. The refree took the ball and stepped over the line for a touch down. Several Yoemen were heard saying that the ball did not go over. The refree frowned and told them to "shut up. I'm running this." On the point after a touchdown, the ball did not go through the goal posts and after it had hit the ground the refree blew his whistle declaring that the Yoemen were off sides.

Bryan out played the Yoemen in the first half but the Yoemen got "sweet revenge" in the last half. Adams got away with a 35 yard pass and was swimming for a touch down when the refree declared that there were but six men on the line. Chiidress, Adams, Hurtenberger and Moody were the Yoemen's Aquatic stars. All the Yoemen fought to a finish never giving in until the whistle blew for the end of the game.

THE DISOBEDIENT SON

Fred fortune was pretty Wilde and frequently raised the Dickens after a night spent in carousing, he returned home with his face Haggard and Gray, much to his fathers dismay. "My son, no Smart man who Burns the candle at both ends can Hope to succeed, exclaimed Mr. Fortune, flourishing Kain so violently that he hit his pet Bunyan a sharp blow.

"Great Scott, Father, do you expect a young fellow to be as dignified as the Pope, and as meek as a Lamb"?

"What's the matter with you and dad", exclaimed Eunice tossing her Hood on a chair. "Same old thing," Muttered Fred.

"Well but you certainly are Swift and your conduct gives dad a Payne in the Harte".

"Oh, Caesar, In how many Towns can you find a fellow of my age who brings in the Bacon," said Fred scornfully.

"Well dad is not as Young as he used to be, and you could be more considerate of his feelings. That last escapade of yours was the limit and the Cross old Dr. Johnson who never Smiles, is going to Sue dad for Damages".

"Cheer up sis, I will turn over a new leaf, and see Hough I can behave in the future."

"But, Fred Howe can dad trust you, and what are mere Wordsworth if you do not really mean to try," said Eunice. "Come with me," said Eunice, I am going to buy dad a new book. He is a great Lover of new books but he will not Reed one if there is a Page missing".

"There is a Goldsmith just down the street and you might buy dad a stickpin or something as a peace offering. But I must fly to the kitchen. The turkey is Browning beautifully, but if it is not tough you will have to Russel if you Stowe as much as usual.' Alright, sis let's go for a walk on the Beaches the tide is out and good looking girls and fellows are as numerous as the sands".

"Fine", said Eunice, "We'll go to the cove too. When the tide is out the path is quite firm and Shelly. "Let's go through the fields", said Fred, "It's not Nye as far and we might find a Hawthorne hedge and a few lemon trees."

"Yes, and we can take a basket of food to the little orphans that live in that miserable hut", said Eunice. "It's nothing but a den," said Fred, but at least it is a House and like many Other Holmes".

A terse and rather peppy compilation of some Texas resources along with her magnificent distances, has been piled up against other of man's habitats with the result that Texas looms up. The compiler had the Texas spirit all right but it is impossible to live in Texas without catching it, and especially is it an epidemic these days when state highways stretch over the state from border to border, and city to city and community to community. The highways lead right in to this spirit which the compiler had when he records that we may read.

There are only two things worth mentioning in the world that Texas does not contain, and those are the North and South poles.

Texas contains all of the continent of North America except an ornamental ruffle of so-called States—including California—to the north, and a rosette called Mexico, to the south.

It is bounded on the east by all the oceans in the world except the Pacific; and on the west it is bounded by the Pacific and most of the sidereal universe.

Under Texas is a subterranean sea of natural gas and petroleum. Above it is most of the sky and all of the major constellations.

Texas is so big that the sun, in five hundred million years, has never been able to travel over it in less than a day, and when it has finished its journey it is always ready to set.

State senators and representatives elected from the border counties travel for months to reach the State Capitol at Austin and are paid millions of dollars in mileage fees alone.

The United States with Texas separated from it will look like the tail on a dog with the dog amputated.

A map, in order to convey any idea of the magnitude of Texas, would have to be tatooed on the hide of the largest elephant, the tail and trunk being sufficient for the rest of the States of the Union.

Unless your front gate is at least 18 miles from your front door, you cannot claim to belong to the first families of Texas. The King's gate down on the King ranch is 150 miles from the front door, and the family have been thinking of moving the house back so that they will not be annoyed by passing automobiles.

Texas grows enough cotton every year to wrap California in a winding sheet three miles thick.

She has enough timber to supply a chariot and four for all of California' risen dead on resurrection morning.

If all the hogs of Texas were one big hog, he could root Califoraia into the sea in three hoots, and his squeal would make the thunders of Niagara sound like a chicken with the pip.

If all the steers in Texas were one big steer, he would stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico, his hind feet in the Bay of San Francisco, and brush the lulu birds off the Golden Gate with his tail.

If all the he-men in Texas were one man he could carry the soil of California under his finger nails. The fornia under his finger nails. The glory of Texas, following the sun, keeping company with the hours encircle the arth daily with one continuous and unbroken Aurora Borealis.

"Lulu"

One of the most exciting and romantic plays of the season was given by the Freshman Opera Company last Thursday at chapel. This was only a sample of the talent of the "Fish." Mr. Herbert Freeman, with all his eloquence, read the cast which was as as follows:

Mr. Cicero Smyth, H. Yoe.

Mrs. Cicero Hanibal Smythe, Lois Robbins.

Mr. Abie Krausbaum, Ralph Keith.

Mrs. Abie Krausbaum, Doris Fairleigh.

Mr. Gaston Algernon Drinkwater, Puny Rogers.

Josephine Czerny, Florence Atkinson.

Prof. HoratPio Judson Brown, Phd., S O S, B Y D, C O D?, Cyrus Miller.

Alphonso Percival Green, Narvie Caperton.

Matilda Slovache, Inez Evans.

Lulu Smythe, Lola Clinton.

Silas Reginald Peabody, Wm. Collins (Red).

Gizzard, Wm. Moran (Smiles).

The final scene opens with the gang singing "Don't Bring Lulu" and "Way Out West in Kansas."

Gizzard, the darkie, announces the arrival of the professor, who hypnotizes Ma Smythe, who immediately gets a rolling pin, and rushes over to innocent Pa, but the professor saves Mr.Smythe's life by stopping Ma.

Next Mr. Drinkwater is hypnotized and gives a very graceful dance, thinking he is a chorus girl.

Gizzard is the next victim and gives a screamingly funny negro sermon from S. and R. catalogue.

Now the company leaves, and Lulu and Percival are left alone. Percival tries to hynotize Lulu and a very mushy love affair is carried on. Percival thinks he has hypnotized Lulu, until he is unable to awaken her, and calls Gizzard to his assistance. Finally is revived and she promises to marry her faithful lover, Percival Green.

Yoemen Receive A Challenge From the Exes of Yoe High

A challenge from the University of Texas for a football game here Christmas Day, December 25th, proved to be from the exes of Yoe High. JOG ON SOPHS!

Forward, Sophs, Forward!
All hearts resolved to conquer,
We are going to pass the others by,
As you pass, "Toot your Honker".

To Our Fellow Students

Ye students of Yoe-Hi wake to glory
You fish, you juniors and Seniors hoary,
Too long you have wept, bewailing,
That the Sophomores arts are unavailing.
Take Notice Fellow Students:
Excuse our dust but we are in a hurry
If you don't believe we are fast try passing us;
If you don't believe we are awake try pinching us,
If you dont believe we are workers try working us,
If you don't believe we can beat you try defeating us,
We are fighting students and intend to fight.
Teachers if you don't believe we know our stuff try stuffing us!

ANOTHER LETTER FOR SOPHS INTEREST

A letter from Henry McFayden was recently receiver by the Sophomores and was immensly enjoyed by all. Those who know Henry should not be surprised to hear that he is showing great improvement in his ability in school work. He was a freshman with us last year. Early training in Cameron schools will guarantee a promising future for Henry, who among the Sophomores of today of Yoe-Hi inspired within him a desire to be what his fellow classmen will be.

SOPHOMORE CLASS MEETING

The Sophomores assembled in assigned rooms on November 9, to discuss important subjects and elect officers:

Ed Kathleen Ely, Treasurer.

Edward Manning, Business Manager.

Dorthy Denson, Class Editor.

As Kate Maples is uncertain when she is leaving us we decided to have the class editor prepared for the trying ordeal she has before her.

When we Sophs call a meeting we get to the bottom of things and root out something worthwhile for the future.

The Sophomores have the pleasure of giving a chapel program next Thursday before the students of Yoe-Hi. We enjoyed the Freshmen's program but the fight is in us and we wish to better the best.

SOPHS VIEW

The contest held at Yoe-Hi,
Was carried in full sway,
For the class that gave the most books to the shcool
Was to receive a holiday.
The Sophs had such a number of books
But in some ineffable way,
The Juniors won by just a few,
And got the holiday.
But for the peppy Sophomores,
This one good thing we say,
That in gathering together our many books,
We took no holiday.
The Sophs won not the holiday,
But really won in spirit,
But against the Juniors we hold no grudge,
Their winning we rightfully merit.

Narie—"Helen said that you wern't good enough to be hung."

Peto—"What did you tell her?"

Narvie—Oh, I stood up for you and said that you were."

Mr. Sterling—"Now suppose that I am leaving the school and a man comes up to me, gives me a blow which knocks me down and my head strikes the pavement with great force and I am killed. What is the consequence?"

Ears (after pause): "Oh, I think we would not have any English.

TO THE SOPHS

Listen Sophs, we on relying on our judgement are now afloat and we must take the current as it serves or lose our ventures;
Shun delays, they breed remorse;
Take your time ,while time is lent you;
Fly your fault, lest you repent;
Give every man your ear, but few your voice;
Take each man's censur, but reserve your judgement;
Silence envious tongues, be just and fear not;
Let your fore-wit guide your thought;
Let all your ends you aim at be your schools
This above all , to your own self be true.

SOPHS RESOLUTION

We the Sophomore class of Yoe-Hi resolve that:
Through bush, through brier,
Through flood, through fire,
Through slime, through slop,
We're coming out on top!

Bill Wallace is so absent minded he thought he forgot his watch and pulled it out to see if he had time to go back ome and get it before school.

Chalmers: "Ma, where's my coat?"

Ma: "I had to send it to the cleaners to get some of that powder off of it.

John Young had begun taking boxing lessons. The teacher had shown him how to knock out a fellow.

Red: "How do you like boxing, John?"

John: "I think I will take the rest of my lessons through mail."

Purebreds—Worth Having

Remember, in purchasing livestock, that "Pedigrees Pay Profits"—you can afford only the best. There are so many good breeds adaptable in every way to the climate of Texas, that your selection of a breed becomes merely a matter of personal choice.

It costs no more to feed a purebred than it does to feed a scrub, and no farmer can afford anything but the best breeds.

Purebreds are worth having, and this bank will help you procure them in every way it can.

Household Suggestions

By MINNIE NELL BLAYLOCK.

Escalloped Corn —Butter baking dish and put in a thin layer of cracker crumbs, then a layer of about one inch thick of corn, dot with butter, sprinkle a little salt and pepper, and one teaspoon sugar over this; add more cracker crumbs, then corn, and season as before. Let the last layer be cracker crumbs dotted with butter. Cover with rich milk and bake in hot oven until crumbs are brown.

Glazed Carrots —Cut six carrots in one-half inch slices. Parboil for ten minutes. Drain and put in a saucepan with one-half cup butter, one-third cup sugar and chopped parsley. Cook slowly until glazed and tender.

Stuffed Onions —Remove skins and parboil in salt water for ten minutes. Turn upside down to cook and to remove centers. Fill cavities with equal parts chopped chicken,bread crumbs softened and the chopped onion that has been removed. Season with salt and pepper and moisten with butter. Put in shallow baking dish, sprinkle with bread crumbs and butter and bake until tender.

Hot Slaw —Use half a head of small cabbage. Take off outside leaves and with a very sharp knife slice very thin. Soak in cold water until crisp, and dry between two towels. Heat this in a dressing made of two egg yolks slightly beaten, one-half cup of cold water, one teaspoon butter, one-fourth cup of hot vinegar, one-half teaspoon salt. Stir over hot water until thick.

Beets in Sauce —Prepare one dozen beets and cook in boiling water until soft. Slip off skins and cut in slices. Make a sauce of one-half cup of sugar and one tablespoon flour; add one-half cup of vinegar and boil for several minutes over the fire. When ready to serve add a large tablespoon of butter.

Lyonnaise Potatoes —Two cups of sliced cold boiled potatoes, cooked in three tablespoons full of butter, adding a dash of salt and pepper. Have ready two tablespoons of chopped onion and two tablespoons of melted onion and two tablespoons of melted butter. Add to this a teaspoon of finely minced parsley, then add all the mixture to the potatoes, shaking the pan occasionally until all the butter is absorbed. Serve on hot dish.

Fried Green Peppers —Cut sweet green peppers in quarters, remove seeds, wash in cold water. Dry. Melt enough fat to cover the bottom of frying pan generously. Add peppers, fry until tender, turning frequently.

How To Preserve Green Corn In Salt —Husk and remove the silk. Cook it in boiling water for ten minutes. Cut from the cob with a sharp knife. Weigh it and pack in glass, stone of earthern vessels with oneutes. Cut from the cob with a sharp fourth of its weight in fine salt. Have cover that can be placed inside of jar. Put on weight sufficent to keep the corn under brine that is formed. If there is not sufficent brine to cover add brine made by dissolving one pound of salt in two quarts of water. As soon as bubbling ceases, protect the surface by covering with parafine.

Use For Orange Peel —When small children or sick people require a quanity of orange juice daily, do not throw away the peels after the juice has been squeezed out. Slightly grate the zest off and drop them into a bowl of water. When a sufficent quanity has been collected give the final rinse in a little salt water, cut in small pieces, place in pot, cover with water and let them simmer down until tender. Then add about three cup fuls sugar to the peel of one dozen oranges and let cook into a marmalade. This is delicious for lunch and is cheap as well wholesome. Should it require several days to collect the necessary quantity of orange peels, these can be kept fresh by changing the water once or twice a day and keeping in a cool place.

Killeen School Is Pleased With Work Supt. W. J. Walker.

The Herald has received a copy of the Killeen Kangroo Tales, a school publication at Killeen where W. J. Walker, former principal of the Cameron grammar school, is superintendent. The paper has the following to say in praise of the work of Mr. Walker:

Killeen high school, together with the surrounding community is lucky indeed in having with us again Mr. W. J. Walker, our beloved superintendent.

Through his influence the County Track Meet is to be held here next year. This will not only benefit the school but the town as well.

Under the past two successful years of superintending our school, we have gained credits in several subjects, and athletics has gained much popularity.

Mr. Walker knows how to handle students and how to get the utmost of work out of them without overburdening either student or teacher. When a student gets into trouble he has but to see Mr. Walker and then everything is all well O. K. once more.

He is ready to sponsor anything which is right as he believes it is right. And with his experience he is usually in the right. It is only to make mistakes and, naturally, he, like all the rest of us, is not perfect But when he does make a mistake he has only to be shown where he was wrong and it is corrected at once.

As has been stated above we feel lucky indeed in having Mr. Walker with us again for his third consecutive year and we hope that he will continue with our high school for years to come.

Pupils at Walkers Creek Organize a Good Eng. Class.

The pupils of the six and seventh grades of the Walker's Creek school have organized a Good English club with the following officers: John Bunt, President, Mary Lou McCall, vice-president, Lizzie Miller, secretary, Alvie McDaniel, treasurer, and Vera Angell, corresponding secretary.

These grades had a good english parade last week. Those who had made the best record for the good english week led as captives those who had made the greatest number of errors. One girl represented a foreign born citizen, and bore the following banner: "I speak the American language".

These pupils are busy working on posters for their room. They are also working up a year book.

HIGH HOPES

The Spanish came here in 1605,
With methods so bold
To seek here in America,
For wealth, silver and gold.

They heard of sparkling cities,
That had been seen by men.
Plans were made for exploring,
Men were gathered by ten's.

Off they went with high hopes
To seek the cities in the land,
Returning in despair for
The sparkling came from the sand.

The discovery made them hopeless,
Strength was gone from the brave;
The only place left for them,
Was the chasm of the grave.

Magdaline Helmcamp,
Senior, Buckholts High School.

A LOVER OF OUT-OF-DOORS

Washington was the youngest
Of the large family of eleven;
He was presented to the General
For blessing before he was seven.

He was a very wayward boy,
And a lover of composition;
This he would always write,
If boys would work his addition.

His wife, Matilda,
Was the daughter of the man,
Whom he had labored under
Chiefly to gain her hand.

Gwendoyln Mowdy
Senior, Buckholts High School.

NERVE

The dentist had just been to call on one of his clients to try to collect a bill for a full set of false teeth he had made for him about a year before.

"Did he pay you?" asked his wife.

"Pay me!" echoed the dentist scornfully. "Not only did he refuse to pay me, but actually had the effrontery to gnash at me-- with my own teeth!"

Firestone Progress Shown in Statement Of Local Dealer.

From a force of 12 men with an output of about 40 carriage tires to a personnel of 12,000 with a production of approximately 35,000 tires every 24 hours, spells the progress of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., according to O. B. Horstman, well-known Firestone dealer of Cameron.

Mr. Horstman, who has just received a copy of the book published by the company on its 25th anniversary, quoted facts and figures to show Firestone's part in the development of tires and its position as one of the leading organizations of the world.

"No company has made a greater impress on motor transportation or has made greater progress in the industry during the last 25 years than Firestone", Mr. Horstman said.

"The anniversary publication shows clearly the record of its achievements. In 1900, when Mr. Harvey S. Firestone organized the company it was capitalized at $50,000. There was no factory, only an office, and the company hired another concern to make its first product.

"Today the capital of the company is $53,587,430 and there are 2,399,400 feet of floor space.

"The Firestone plants are the largest in the world devoted exclusively to the manufacture of tires. Firestone is a veritable city within Akron, Ohio, its headquarters. Mammoth factories, residental district for employes, a club house, a library, a bank, an athletic field, employes stores and resturants are some of its activities.

"Its ramifications are worldwide. Recently the company leased 1,000,000 acres of land in Liberia for the growing of crude rubber.

"Firestone has made some of the greatest contributions to the tire industry and inaugurated the ship by truck movement and the national good roads essay contest, both of which have been of incalcutable value to motor transportation.

THE ELLEN CAVER CLASS

The Ellen Caver class of the Baptist church recently organized, having as our teacher Mrs. Binford, wife of our assistant pastor, whose teaching is an inspiration to every member.

These young women are earnest, wide-awake Christian workers. They look after the sick, the poor and the shut-ins. One visit made was last Sunday P. M. to a lady who had recently lost her son. We took her flowers and had a special song and prayer service.

No member of the class fails to be visited and flowers sent when they are sick or in trouble.

Many local causes are helped by the class which gives both money and service. It is the earnest aim of the officers to have every minute in the class room filled with something good and worth while.

All the committees necessary for a standard class are functioning. The class holds regular cabinet meetings once a month, at which time business is attended to and then a social hour with refreshments. A cabinet meeting was held last Saturday evening at the home of our teacher. Each officer gave her report of last months work. At this time a goal was set at $100. for the Buckners Orphans Home to be sent to them at Christmas. Also arrangements were made for the fruit shower of fruit baskets which are to be sent to the shut-ins on Thanksgiving Day.

Time and space would not permit all the work this class is doing. The love, congeniality and sweet Christian spirit of loyality is wonderful in this class. We are seeking to serve our Master in every way we can and we are praying that we may become more efficent workers for His cause.

MILLION BAPTISMS HAD BY BAPTISTS

New Evangelistic Record for Nation for Five Years Set Up in South.

WOULD DEVELOP MEMBERS

Effort to Enlist Entire Constituency of 3,500,000 in Regular Giving Planned Soon.

More than one million new members have been received into the Baptist churches of the South by baptism alone during the past five years, according to a survey by Dr. E. P. Alldredge, statistical secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention. The exact figures, 1,037,550 baptisms, set a new record not only for Southern Baptists, but for any evangelical body in America, the records reveal. This achievement is equivalent to 24 baptisms for every hour, 576 for every day, 3,990 per week, 17,292 per month and 207,510 per year.

DR. ELLIS A. FULLER,
Superintendent of Evangelism.

Prominent in the achievement of this result has been the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga. This board, organized eighty years ago has, within that time, more than a million baptisms and 1,426,386 additions to the churches to show for the labors of its missionaries, while the agents of the board have within that period raised and disbursed in mission work in the South, Panama and Cuba the sum of $18,213,336.10.

Last 22 Years Productive

The larger part of these achievements of the Home Board has come during the past 22 years, covering the secretaryship of Dr. B. D Gray. Under Dr. Gray's administration the workers of the board have baptized 662,497 persons, received 1,122,344 persons into the churches and organized 4,997 new churches Within the same period the agents of the board have raised and disbursed in mission work the sum of $14,723,595.87.

The evangelistic department of the Home Mission Board has been its greatest single evangelistic asset. This department has been without an active head recently, but the board has just called to that position Dr. Ellis A. Fuller of Greenville, S. C., and he entered upon his work October 1. He is a young man of college and seminary training and has been unusually successful in soul winning and other phases of work as a pastor.

Southern Baptists have been far more successful in winning converts and church members than they have been in the general spiritual development of the members, it is pointed out. In the hope of bringing about a development of the 3,574,531 members of the denomination to the point where all of them will have a share in supporting all the missionary, educational and benevolent work fostered by the denomination, an Every Member Canvass will be conducted in a majority of the 27,000 Baptist churches throughout the South, during the late fall and winter, the majority of the states employing the week of Dec. 6-13.

Would Enlist Every Member

The canvass will be conducted under the general auspices of the Co-operative Program, which is fostering state, home and foreign missions the Baptist schools, hospitals and orphanages, and the work of ministerial relief. The ideal toward which the commission is striving is that of every member, giving every week to every cause in proportion to his ability, through his local church. As fully as possible individual Baptists are being urged to give a tenth of their income to Christian work.

So extensively have the various missionary and benevolent enterprises fostered by Southern Baptists grown in recent years that it now requires a minimum of $12,000,000 per year to keep the work growing. Each state is being asked to provide its proportionate share of this amount. The state boards, in turn, are asking the respective associations in their states to accept definite quotas for 1926, and the associations, in turn, are asking the local churches to assume a definite proportion of the associational objective for the year.
